

ROBERT L. DUGAN, SR.

For thirty years, Bobby Dugan directed successful band programs at Ooltewah and Chattanooga Central High Schools and Brown Middle School. Upon his retirement from Hamilton County Schools, he taught for fifteen years at Lakeview Middle School in Catoosa County Georgia. Bobby's bands consistently received superior ratings at concert festivals and his students were actively involved in association clinics and solo and ensemble festivals. In addition to his career as a band director, Bobby was actively involved with the Chattanooga Boys Choir and played trombone with area big bands.

Many of Bobby's former students are successful band directors and professional musicians. Bobby is currently the director of the Metro Community Band. Most days he can be found in an area band room lending a helping hand.

Bobby Dugan's contributions to music education are exemplary.
